The Axe By Frances Randolph

ACCORDING to an announcement in the Washington newspapers, a "host of new courses" will be offered at George Washington next fall, one of them, a course in public speaking, being given in answer to an insistent demand on the part of the student body. The student body has also expressed an insistent demand for another type of course—that of newspaper work. Consistently during the entire year the members of different staffs and of the professional fraternities have supported this movement. They have shown that such courses would be welcomed by the student body, and that they would be of advantage to the University. Possibly this demand is to be satisfied to some extent by the addition of at least one new course next fall among the host of others.

THE annual conference for this region of the Intercollegiate News Association will be held here next year. Delegates from schools in Maryland, Delaware and Southern Pennsylvania are expected to attend the meetings. There is a tremendous and ever growing interest in journalism in the colleges, much greater and more wide spread than interest in debating. Journalism is more truly public speaking than is public speaking itself.

HENRY JAMES has been appointed chairman of an Interfraternity Council committee to confer with architects on the subject dear to the hearts of many—that of founding a "fraternity row" on the campus. Let us hope that the dear brethren will find the conference to their liking, and will be able to raise the necessary shekels to make this dream a reality.

THE millennium has come, the lion has lain down with the lamb, and peace and harmony reigns supreme among the irreconcilables! In other words, Chi Omega and Pi Phi, traditional deadly rivals, have accorded each other diplomatic recognition, and with much bowing and exchanging of courtesies, have elected each other to the Dramatic Association.

WORTHY of notice upon this same subject is the fact that the president, vice president and secretary are all Troubadours, and this is not all! The Troubadours claim to have elected a straight ticket, for Tom Bentley, the new treasurer, though a member of the Dionysians, is "a friend of Sterry's."

TAKE note, ye skeptics, that this was a "clean" election. It may have reeked with sorority politics, and been entirely in the hands of the largest dramatic club, but every vote was cast by the voter in person and only after he had been confirmed as a member in good standing in one of the clubs. No ballot boxes were stuffed, no votes were disputed, no fights were held, and no violent electioneering disturbed the scenery. We are still shocked by the tragedy. Sic transit gloria mundi. In other words, them were the days.

WE are comforted, however, by the appearance of one real good, old-fashioned election. In electing Maxine de Silvia president, the Players gave the election-follower his one thrill. Maxine started things going by disqualifying most of the assembled multitude, thus reducing the voting public to about eight faithful members. We understand that of the eleven votes cast, Maxine carried the day with seven. This is the kind of thing that makes us take a long breath, shoulder our axe, and decide that the life of a woodcutter is still worth living.

TODAY the Hatchet makes its final appearance. This year has brought an enlarged paper with a bigger staff and changed methods of organization. May the growth next year be still greater!

BROOKLANDERS EKE OUT CLOSE VICTORY OVER HATCHETTITES

Final Event Decides Outcome of Hard-Fought Track Meet

SCORE IN FIELD EVENTS
Loehler, Popham, and Willett Each Win Two Events on Program

Brilliant performances on the cinder paths and in the field featured the dual track meet with Catholic University last Friday afternoon. The spectators were kept in a state of fevered excitement during the course of the meet which went to the Maroon and Black by the narrow margin of 50.1-3 to 56.2-3. So closely contested were the various events that the outcome was not decided until the final event on the card.

In the half-mile, which was the curtain act of the afternoon's pastime, the Brooklanders pushed their men over in one-two order, giving the Catholics the better half of the verdict. Langley and Howell nosed out Stearns of G. W. and gave C. U. the necessary points to cop the meet.

The Cardinals carried off top honors in the dashes, when Langley and Murphy finished first and second, respectively, in the century. The Brooklanders copped first and second in the 220, and monopolized the 440 by taking all three places.

Hatchettites Star in Distance.
In the mile and two-mile events, Hurd Willett, stellar distance runner of the Hatchet squad, showed the way to the rest of the field, not being hard pressed to finish ahead of the other runners. The only hurdle event on the program, the 220 yard, was won by Loehler, the Hatchette captain, who topped the timbers in the time of 26.1-5 seconds.

George Washington had a slight edge in the field events. Popham took first in both the shot put and discus, while Johnnie Loehler hurtled through the air for 21 feet 3.1-4 inches to cop the broad jump.

The pole vault resulted in a tie between Aaronson of G. W. and Juter of C. U. at 11 feet. Reed and Werner of G. W. tied with Pfeiffer for third place. The javelin throw and the high jump went to the Cardinals.

Loehler, Willett, and Popham each placed first in two events, while Gardes and Langley turned in nice performances for the Brooklanders.

The summary of events follows:

Credit to Miss Wentworth
This 1925-26 season of the club proved one of progressive achievement and accomplishment, according to the report. Credit for the success was attributed in a large measure to the efforts of Miss Estelle Wentworth, who has directed the club through the entire year.

The work of the club has consisted of concerts given at most of the leading churches in this city as well as the most prominent hospitals. The one-week program given at the Rialto Theatre marked a step forward in the progress of the organization.

LIBRARY NOTICE

All books and magazines withdrawn from the University Library must be returned by Wednesday, June 2nd, the last day of the examination period.

A record is not clear as long as there is a charge for books or magazines against a student, and the failure to return them will be referred to the Dean and the Treasurer of the University for action.

As the Library facilities are limited, students who do not need to consult library books are requested to study in the classrooms during examination week.

HATCHET EDITORS ATTEND MEETING

Banquet and Business Session Marks Annual I. N. A. Convention

TO HOLD ZONE MEET HERE

Prominent Newspapermen Address Delegates; Award Cup For Best Editorial to Rutgers Paper

The ninth annual convention of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association of the Middle Atlantic States was held at Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, Pa., May 14 and 15. The University Hatchet was represented at the conference by Howard M. Baggett, Managing Editor, and R. Campbell Starr, News Editor.

The convention opened with a banquet at the Strath Haven Inn on Friday evening. Speakers of the evening included Dr. Miller, Assistant President of Swarthmore, who extended the greeting of the College, L. Lee Starke, President of the I. N. A., who responded to the greeting, Dr. H. B. Rathbone, of the Department of Journalism of New York University, Mr. Fullerton Waldo, Assistant Editor of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, and Dr. Frank Parker, of the Wharton School of Finance of the University of Pennsylvania.

Discusses Mechanical Makeup

Dr. Rathbone's speech was particularly well received by the delegates. He told of being confronted with the proposition of defining personality by a student and how he worked out a mathematical definition of this all-important factor of one's human makeup. According to Dr. Rathbone, personality is imagination, multiplied to the Nth power, times will, multiplied to the Nth power, plus all of our original traits, plus all of our acquired traits. The speaker said he examined the characters of all of the great men of the ages and found that the characteristics of imagination and will developed to the ultimate were the only traits possessed by all.

The regular session of the convention was held Saturday morning at the Delta Upsilon Lodge, and consisted of a discussion of general and special topics of interest to the delegates, besides several talks on specially selected topics. Dr. Rathbone's talk on the mechanical construction of the College Paper was particularly well enjoyed.

New Officers Elected

W. Gordon Risdale, of Lehigh University, was elected president of the Association for the coming year. The business manager of the Lehigh paper automatically becomes secretary. The new vice president is a member of the staff of the Crestiad of Cedar Crest College, while the treasurer for the coming year is business manager of the Gettysburg College weekly.

The conference for Zone One of the Association will be held at George Washington University in the autumn. The Hatchet will entertain the delegates from the several papers in this section at this meeting. The next annual conference for the entire Association will be held at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

A cup for the best editorial appearing during the year was won by the Targum of Rutgers College. The editorial was entitled "The Futility of Verbal Fencing."

FRANCES RANDOLPH ANNOUNCES SHE IS BRIDE OF MONTHS

Married to George S. Weber, G. W. U. Student, On August 16, 1925

IS PROMINENT ON CAMPUS

News Comes Out at Shower Given Her at Argonne Apartments Last Saturday Night

Frances Randolph, prominent co-ed of George Washington University and member of the University Hatchet Board of Editors, announced her marriage to Mr. George S. Weber, also of the University, at a shower given her by Misses Sarah French Smith and Julia Watkins at the Argonne Apartments last Saturday night. The couple were married at Frederick, Md., on August 16, 1925. This dramatic announcement came as a complete surprise to the students of the University.

Although the couple have gone together for the past year not a hint of the marriage had escaped. Miss Randolph had announced to her friends that she expected to be married in the near future, but news that she had taken the marital step nine months ago was a decided shock.

Is Prominent

Besides being very prominent on the University Hatchet, having been a member of the staff for three years and widely known throughout the University as author of her column, "The Axe," Miss Randolph is a member of the Zeta Tau Alpha social fraternity, of Gamma Eta Zeta, girls' journalistic fraternity, of the Hour Glass Honor Society, and the Sphinx Honor Society. She has been employed in the office of Mr. Vernon Brewster, secretary of the Alumni Association, for the past year.

Mr. Weber is a fourth-year student of Columbian College and is preparing for Medical School. He is a member of the Bucknell University Chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity.

Have Wedding Cake

About 24 girls were gathered in Miss Sarah French Smith's apartment in the Argonne Apartment Saturday night when the announcement was made. A wedding cake, containing the customary bride and groom dolls appeared, announcing the couple's secret.

Among the presents received by the couple were a set of kitchen knives and two aprons. It seemed that their friends were determined that the bride do kitchen duty.

Mr. and Mrs. Weber are living at the Corcoran Courts, Apartment 607, situated at Twenty-third and D Streets N. W. They both announce that they intend to complete their work at the University.

The Columbian Women of George Washington University have again chosen Mrs. Henry Gratian Doyle, wife of Professor Doyle, of the Modern Language Department, as their president for the next year. Announcement of the elections, which were conducted by mail, was made by Mrs. D. K. Shute, chairman of the nominating committee, at the business meeting of the organization held Tuesday afternoon, May 11, in the trustee's room of Corcoran Hall.

Mrs. D. C. Croissant was re-elected to the office of first vice president and Miss Irene Pistorio to that of treasurer. Mrs. Richard W. Hyson was made second vice president; Mrs. George Bowen, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert F. Griggs, corresponding secretary; and Miss Virginia Dieder, historian.

The addition of $500 to the third scholarship fund was voted, bringing the total for the year to $1,000.

A portrait of Dr. Charles E. Munroe, who was Dean of the Graduate School of the University from 1892 to 1917, was presented to the organization by Miss Katherine Koetz on behalf of Dr. Munroe. It will be hung in the new room of the Columbian Women. Dr. Munroe greatly fostered the formation of the association in its earliest stages.

TO AWARD PRIZE

The Scarab Fraternity announces that a book, to cost not more than $25.00, will be awarded to the freshman in the Department of Architecture, who makes the best grade on the problem upon which they are now working, that of a Palladin window. This prize will be awarded after the judgment has been made upon the work of this class, by a jury of prominent Washington architects.

TO PLAY RETURN MATCH

Buff and Blue Superior in Singles—Doubles Go to Brooklanders

George Washington University's tennis team sent the Maroon and Black of Catholic University down to defeat to the tune of 4 to 3 in a closely contested match played last Friday afternoon.

The Hatchettites got off to a rather inauspicious start, with Rutley, the Buff and Blue captain, losing to Regan, captain of the Brooklanders, 8-6, 8-6. Rutley, for the first time this season, seemed unable to cope with the smashing drives of his opponents. In the second match, Detweiler (G. W.) defeated Hicks (C. U.) 6-8, 6-4, 6-2.

In the next set-to, Agrams (G. W.) encountered stiff opposition in disposing of Kuwaski. He won the first set 7-5, lost the second absolutely by a score of 0-6, and came back in the third with a tally of 8-6.

The fourth and fifth matches were won decisively by the G. W. men, with Durand (G. W.) defeating Gardesen 6-1 and 6-3, and Sickler showing the way to Riordan 6-3 and 6-1. In the doubles the C. U. men proved themselves superior to the Hatchettites. The first doubles match went to Hicks and Regan (C. U.) over Detweiler and Rutley, 3-6, 6-1, and 7-5. The best tennis of the afternoon was displayed in this match. In the next, Kuwaski and Riordan (C. U.) bested Abrams and Sickler 6-1 and 10-8. A return match with the Brooklanders will be played at an early date.

SOCIAL SERVICE TESTS TOPIC OF CHAPEL TALK

Prof. Moss Gives Interesting Lecture On Numerous Psychological Experiments

Chapel service opened Wednesday, May 14, with a short song service led by Bob Harper, after which Prof. Moss gave a very interesting address covering a number of his experiments, in which he explained some new social service tests which he has just completed.

Prof. Moss stated that this is an age of measurements, and stressed the important part that they play in our lives, from birth to death. There are the measurements of the tangible and of the intangible, the last, the field of psychology. It has made possible the prediction of a future through the certain knowledge of a person's mentality. The study of the qualities of a successful man shows his possession of two kinds of intelligence. A social intelligence, the ability to get along with people; and an abstract intelligence, that which enables a man to attain the heights of scholarship. The former is shown to be the more important.

Prof. Moss has compiled a series of social service questions based on moral situations, choice of several answers being given. These tests are to be given in the jails of New Jersey and in Maryland.

DEAN RUEDIGER WRITES ARTICLE ON "EVOLUTION"

Dean William C. Ruediger, of Teacher's College, is the author of an article entitled "Evolution," in the May issue of "School and Society." The paper deals, briefly, with the feasibility of teaching the principles of evolution to students of high school age.

SENIOR PROM, JUNE FOURTH, FIRST OF EVENTS FOR GRADS

Other Senior Festivities to Follow During Week of Commencement

CONVOCATION JUNE NINE

Alumni to Entertain Seniors With Dance; President and Mrs. Lewis to Receive

By HELEN SHAW

With examinations already a matter of history, members of the graduating classes and their friends will begin the festivities of Senior Week by wooing Terpsichore at the Senior Promenade, Friday evening, June 4. The Mayflower Hotel has been secured for the event. Music par excellence is promised by Murray Flack, Chairman of the Committee, and will be furnished by Dick Lebert and his Sangamo Orchestra. Novel program favors, the character of which is being kept secret, will be given. Five dollars is the subscription.

The annual pilgrimage to Mount Vernon will be the feature of the day Saturday, June 5. The object of this visit to the shrine of him for whom the University is named, is that each graduating class may rededicate itself to the principles on which his life was founded. In the evening of the same date, the George Washington Alumni will entertain the Senior Classes with a reception and dance at the Washington Club, at 17th and K Streets N. W. The reception will begin at eight, while dancing will get under way after nine-thirty. All graduates become members of the General Alumni Association for one year.

Baccalaureate Sermon.

Sunday afternoon, June 6, the Baccalaureate Sermon will be delivered, probably on the back campus, if the weather permits. Cap and gown will be worn at this event, it is planned.

The annual baseball game between the faculty and the Pyramid Honor Society, is planned for Monday, June 7. This event should be of great interest to the student body as a whole, as it will offer a unique opportunity to see "Prexy" Lewis in action as star pitcher for the faculty.

Class Night is June 8, in Corcoran Hall. The Senior Classes will wear cap and gown and enter as a body in procession. The class night program includes a short speech of welcome from the Senior Class president of each of the colleges, salutatory address, class history, class prophecy, the valedictory, G. W. songs, and selections by the Men's Glee Club.

Senior Fund Planned.

Plans are under way at the present time for a Senior Endowment Fund. Such a plan is being successfully operated at other institutions. At such schools it is a matter of tradition for the Seniors to sign a note for a relatively small amount, which multiplied year after year soon grows to useful proportions. The class of 1926 hopes to begin such a custom at G. W., by giving the graduates an opportunity to do something for the future of the school which has done so much for them in the past. This plan will be placed before the class as a whole on class night.

President and Mrs. William Mather Lewis will hold a reception for the graduating classes Wednesday afternoon, June 9, at the Washington Club, 1701 K Street, from 4 till 6.

The crowning event of Commencement, Convocation, will be held on the evening of June 9, at which time degrees will be conferred on the candidates from the several colleges.

THE G. W. U. GRADUATE FUND

A committee of seniors are formulating plans for the establishment of a "GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY GRADUATE ENDOWMENT FUND." The plan, in general, is that each senior upon graduating will voluntarily pledge himself to a small yearly payment for a certain number of years.

This University needs Endowment, and the most logical body to look for it is the alumni. The best way to have active and interested alumni is to let them pledge an active and monetary interest in their Alma Mater for a few years after they graduate and leave the University.

The Class of 1926 has the opportunity of leaving the traces of its handiwork upon the structure of a greater George Washington University, and we know that they will make it a success.

EVEN AS YOU AND I

As the delights of summer approach, vying with the horrors of impending examinations in luring us out or indoors, there are some of us whom a sense of duty, fear, or responsibility inveigles into the Library to study. Motivated by a righteous desire to get some work done, we cannot help but resent the presence of those who use the Library as a place for social chit chat, especially at this critical period of the school year. We too, like to talk, even as these. But if we had time, a nice bench on the campus would suit our purpose far better than the somewhat gloomy precincts of the Library. We recognize then the temptation to indulge in conversation when one meets a friend struggling in the slough of despond which precedes the semester examinations. However, we would suggest that courtesy, which is only another word for consideration for others, demands that the student be quiet in the Library or seek a rendezvous elsewhere.

OUR SWAN SONG

This is the last issue of the University Hatchet for the year. Our edition of thirty-two issues is larger by two papers than that of last year, yet it ends with this issue. The Hatchet staff has attempted to continually better the class of its publication, and will meet shortly to elect several new board members and discuss plans for increasing the size and frequency of the issue. The staff wishes to take this opportunity to express its appreciation for the cooperation of both the administrative and scholastic branches of the University in getting out the publication and to express again the loyalty it feels for this institution.

WHAT PRICE EDUCATION?

As graduation approaches, those of us who have not "specialized" find ourselves asking, "Has it been worthwhile—the sacrifice of four years; the work; the worry?" This is a more or less disconcerting question when we can see that many college students fail to profit by their education. Generally it is the individual who is at fault, however, and not the education.

Broadly speaking, college education should prepare one for life, by showing him Truth and Beauty, both actual and potential. Anything which is efficiently instrumental in doing this has its place in college life. If the student has done his part, he has the right to demand preparation for life as the requirement from his college.

Most of the problems and conflicts of life arise when we are forced to make a choice. Education should furnish us with an understanding of values and the ability to think accurately so that we may choose wisely. Education should not only enable the individual to find his place and work in the world, but should also furnish the theoretical foundation for the development of a practical technique to enable him to fill his place well and do his work efficiently.

Education should orient the individual with respect to society. It should develop a social conscience and a universal point of view, so that he may be of greatest possible benefit in advancing civilization.

Above all, education should develop an inquiring mind, furnished with the necessary information to analyze accurately and find a practical solution to the problems of life, in order that men may live together in harmony and cooperate in advancing the welfare of humanity.

A Navy wedding of much interest to George Washington University took place Saturday evening at the Church of the Epiphany, when Miss Hazel Davis became the bride of Ensign Harry Keith. Miss Frances Davis was maid-of-honor for her sister and the bridesmaids included Helen Kellogg, Evelyn Fletcher, and Gertrude Young, while the ushers were all graduates of the '22 class of the Naval Academy. Sections were reserved in the church for both the chapters of Chi Omega and Sigma Kappa sororities.

Miss Davis has been much entertained during the past weeks, being the recipient of many showers and lunches among the G. W. crowd.

Miss Kincannon, accompanied by Miss Howell, motored to Blue Ridge College, New Windsor, Md., on Friday for a meeting of the Maryland Branch of Collegiate Registrars.

Hospital Day, celebrated in the District of Columbia, last week was celebrated at the George Washington University Hospital, as well as at the various other hospitals in the city. The hospital presented an attractive appearance in its "best bib and tucker," according to some of those who visited it on its exhibition day.

Chi Omega announces the formal initiation on Friday evening of Julia Denning, Betty Chipman, Ruth Greenwood, Margaret McAllister, Betsy Booth, and Dottie Gray.

Dean Rose was most delightfully "at home" in the Club Rooms of Building 2 last Wednesday, when she had assisting her for the afternoon the Prema Club, a newly organized club.

And that same Miss Rose was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Prema's at the Willard Hotel, when she was presented with a beautiful corsage of roses.

The June graduates of Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity, entertained at a farewell supper last night.

Miss Evelyn Fletcher was hostess at a formal dinner Friday evening when she entertained the members of the Keith-Davis wedding party, preceding the rehearsal.

It really must be getting serious—she's coming all the way from Cincinnati to see Babe Whyte!

California seems to have a big attraction for our boys. Stan Tracey, the editor-in-chief of this year's Cherry Tree and president of Sigma Nu, left last Tuesday for California, where he will remain several months before returning to Utah, where he will remain permanently.

Dean Rose and Miss Kincannon were guests of honor at a birthday dinner given by Chi Omega on Monday evening, May 17.

The pledges of Kappa Delta entertained the actives with a clever sketch entitled "Actives in Activities" on Saturday night. A silver tea set was presented to the chapter at the time.

Prof. Paul Gropp is recovering from a severe attack of double pneumonia at the George Washington Hospital. Although he will not be back this semester, he expects to teach in summer school.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Thomas, parents of Edward Clifton Thomas, entertained the Washington City Rho Chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon with a delightful shad bake Saturday evening at their home in Silver Spring, Md.

The Utah Legat Club gave a greatly enjoyed banquet for their graduating class Wednesday evening at the Ivy Vine Cafeteria on G Street.

Sixteen pledges were conducted through the formal initiation of Kappa Delta last Sunday. The initiation was followed by a banquet at the Lafayette attended by over 50 members and initiates. Marceline Gray presided as toastmistress. Attractive favors in the form of the sorority creed were given to each initiate by her sorority "Mother."

Those initiated were: Dorothy Burns, Leah Cate, Katherine Crawley, Carolann Getty, Dorothy Greasley, Betty Joyce Graham, Elizabeth Hill, Estelle Humphreys, Helen Humphreys, Esther Iglehart, Mary Kennedy, Dorothy Pile, Dorothy Stevens, Auril Stewart, Melane Uhlig, Mary Withers.

The local Chapter of the Acacia Fraternity observed the twenty-fourth anniversary of the founding of the fraternity with a banquet at the Chapter House, 1707 Massachusetts Ave., last Wednesday evening. A large number of alumni joined with the actives in this celebration. Professor Lapham, acting as toastmaster, called upon Prof. C. M. Updegraff, Prof. J. H. Platt, Prof. A. L. Smith, Dr. J. F. Meyer, Charles Swindler, chapter advisor, and Harry Coakley, president of the local chapter, to refresh the memories of those present on the traditions of the fraternity.

Matalee Lake is leaving with her father, Mr. Felix Lake, the last of this month from Vancouver, B. C., for Japan. She will also tour China and India, returning to this country by way of South Africa and South America.

Dorothy Patton was given a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Eleanor Spielman, Tuesday night, May 11. Members of the Alpha Delta Pi fraternity and the wedding attendants were present. Miss Patton is to marry Mr. Lloyd Sauer at the Annapolis Chapel, June 2. He will be attended by ten members of the Naval Academy where he formerly attended school.

On Monday evening Alpha Delta Pi initiated Bernadine Horn, Eugenia LaMerle, Frances Marshall, Margaret Rees, Alla Rogers, and Geraldine Shock.

JUNIOR MEDICOS COP GALLINGER POSITIONS

George Washington University medical students received six of eight internships at Gallinger Hospital in a competitive oral examination held at the hospital February 15th. The other two appointments went to Georgetown men.

The oral examination, which resulted in the appointments, was taken by approximately twenty-five medical students, twelve of which were from the University Medical School. Six of G. W.'s twelve received appointments. The internships begin July 1st, 1926, and continue until July 1st, 1927, and provide much practical medical experience for the would-be practitioners.

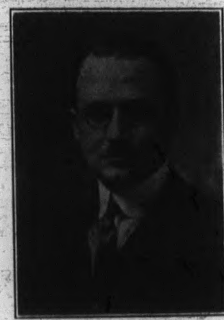

Those who received appointments are: Alec Preece, interne in obstetrics; Julio Colon, interne in surgery; William Fradkin, assistant in clinical pathology; Harry Cart, interne in medicine; A. S. Finkelstein, alternate interne in medicine. One other internships, as medical alternate in the District Jail, was offered to another G. W. medico, who declined the job.

INTRODUCING THE FACULTY

HENRY GRATTAN DOYLE

Bespectacled and rotund; a little more sparse than the picture; chap-

eron to the publications; newly appointed usher to men's organizations.

Professor Doyle, progressing in due course of time from the educational advantages offered by his native town, Somerville, Mass., eventually attended Harvard University, where he became (and still is) a rabid Harvardite, hanging up his A. B. from that noted school in 1911 and framing his A. M. from the same place in 1912.

He started his career as educator in 1912, beginning as instructor in Modern Languages at Porter Military Academy, Charleston, S. C., only to return to Harvard, 1913-1916, to serve in a similar capacity.

In the fall of 1916 Professor Doyle came to G. W. as instructor in Romance Languages, becoming assistant professor in 1918 and professor in 1921. He has taught mostly Spanish and French, but next year he will add Italian to his schedule.

He has also been connected with Cornell University, where he was in charge of the Spanish during the summers of 1920 and 1923. He has recently been appointed to the faculty of Johns Hopkins for 1926-27 and will conduct a graduate course in old French, commuting each day between Baltimore and Washington to be able to do so.

Professor Doyle is noted for his active interest in student affairs as a member of the Student Activities Committee and is chairman of the Publications Council. Beginning with the fall term he will be advisor to men's organizations and will be joint chairman with Dean Rose of the Faculty Committee on Social Relations.

He is a member of the Pyramid Honor Society and faculty advisor to Pi Delta Epsilon honorary journalistic fraternity. He is president of the G. W. Chapter of the American Association of University Professors, which body he also represents on the American Council of Education. He is also president of the Federal Schoolmen's Club, president of the Association of Modern Language Teachers of the Middle States and Maryland, and a member of the Harvard Club of which he is chairman of the committee on schools.

He is editor of the Modern Languages section of the Journal of Education, associate editor of Hispania, and assistant managing editor of the Modern Languages Journal. He has also published numerous articles and books.

ALPHA DELTA PI HOLDS ANNIVERSARY BANQUET

Alpha Delta Pi celebrated its seventy-fifth anniversary with a large banquet on Saturday, May 15. The toast mistress was Miss Beatrice Workman, and speeches were given by Mrs. Pollard, Mrs. Bolwell, and by some of the founders of the local chapter.

This year the sorority is dedicating a "Memorial Bench," in celebration of its seventy-fifth birthday, to Wesleyan Female College, Macon, Ga., the institution in which it was founded.

COLUMBIAN DEBATORS DISCUSS H. L. MENCKEN

The Columbian Debating Society, at its last meeting before the close of the school year, discussed the question, "Resolved, That H. L. Menckens, Editor of the American Mercury, is a charlatan." The affirmative of the argument was upheld by William Williamson; the negative was supported by Loren Disney. The decision was awarded to the affirmative on the vote of the audience. The debate was followed by an open discussion of the issue from the floor.

Immediately following the match at Annapolis, the letter men of the team elected H. E. Riley captain and John A. Pluge manager for next year. Both of these men have been members of the rifle squad for the past two years, and their shooting has been consistently good.

CHERRY TREE EXPECTED

The Cherry Tree, George Washington University annual, is expected to arrive the latter part of this week. A. C. Perry, Business Manager, announces that the books may be obtained at the Treasurer's office of the University, 2033 G Street N. W., on the left side of the building. Receipts must be presented before the books will be delivered, and any balance due must be paid then. A limited number of annuals above the number subscribed for will be on hand and may be had by those who call for them first.

RAIN PREVENTS GAMES IN FRATERNITY SERIES

Sigma Nu or Sigma Chi Will Meet
Phi Sigs to Decide
Championship

Rain stopped the games in the interfraternity series this week, preventing Sigma Nu from meeting Sigma Chi in what might have been the final game in League A. Sigma Nu has won three games and lost none, while Sigma Chi has won two and suffered no defeats.

The championship in the league lies between these two teams. The winner will meet Phi Sigma Kappa, League A champion, for the interfraternity title.

No definite date has been set for the remainder of the games, but it is doubtful if they will be played before the examinations. The championship game was scheduled for May 16, but due to the fact that the League A championship had not been decided the game could not be played.

GIRLS' NET TOURNAMENT BEING HELD THIS WEEK

Cup Offered By Zeta Tau Alpha to Be Awarded

The doubles tennis tournament in which any girl in the University may compete is well under way, and if the weather proves suitable next week the matches are expected to be finished. So far the first-round has been played off with about six contests being staged last week, and this week the final rounds will be finished up. This year the Zeta Tau Alpha sorority has offered a cup to the winners of this match, and due to this much interest has been shown by the girls of the University.

ENGRAVINGS OF GEORGE WASHINGTON PRESENTED

About four weeks ago Mrs. Charles W. Richardson, a member of the G. W. U. Hospital Board of Lady Managers, presented to the University three steel engravings portraying events in the life of George Washington.

They are "George Washington Receiving a Salute," "Heroes of the Revolution," and a family group on the veranda at Mount Vernon. These pictures are now hanging on the north wall of Room 1 in Corcoran Hall, where they may be seen with another engraving given by Mrs. Richardson some time past.

It is Mrs. Richardson's hope to see the University equipped with a full pictorial review of George Washington's life.

PLANS BEING MADE FOR GIRLS' SPORTS

Enlargement of Schedules and
Addition of Sports
Next Year

SEASON IS SUCCESSFUL

Basketball, Tennis, Rifle, Swimming,
and Track Seasons Successful;
Hygiene Classes Planned

By BETTY ARMENTROUT

Plans for next year's girls' athletic activity are being formulated and promise to cover a larger field than has ever been followed in the history of the University. Due to the huge success that the girls of the school have achieved in all phases of athletics the University is anxious to attain a more complete schedule for women athletics.

With the instigation of golf and gymnasium classes under the supervision of the school for the first time, the field of athletic activity has progressed in two main steps of sportdom. Next year it is expected that the women's hockey team will receive an appropriate budget from the University and will be enabled to play at least one out of town team in the course of its fall or spring season.

Basketball Schedule Planned

Women's Varsity basketball, which only a short time ago completed an unusually successful season—winning all but two of its contests, is in the process of forming its next year's schedule and it is expected that it will encounter teams from William and Mary, Swarthmore, University of Pennsylvania, University of Pittsburgh, Gallaudet, Westhampton, and Wilson Normal and probably one contest may be arranged with one of the universities in New York.

According to the plans already formulated the G. W. six will play Westhampton, University of Pennsylvania, Wilson Normal, Gallaudet and probably the University of Pittsburgh on their various home floors; the rest being played on the G. W. court.

Tennis, which is at present in the midst of a very successful spring season, is looking for a larger backing from the school next year and will by this aid be able to represent George Washington in many college matches.

Rifle Season Successful

Rifle, instigated in the University four years ago as a major sport and which has attained great fame during this whole time, has recently achieved honor by placing second in the N. R. A. matches, but next year it is expected to gain more fame with so many of this year's freshmen showing exceptionally excellent ability in this target sport. According to plans for next year the team will as usual shoot telegraphic matches with most of the leading universities and colleges of the United States and will encounter several teams in shoulder-to-shoulder matches either in the Hatchette rifle range or in those of other schools.

Swimming and track, not yet major sports of the school, have shown exceptional progress during the past year and they are looked forward to as two of the promising sports for girls. The inter-class swimming meet held recently proved very noteworthy, and is just another example of the progress of this phase of athletic activity. Next year the inter-class track and field meet will have a larger attendance of the feminine athletes of better training and equipment can be counted of any worth in promoting this event.

Hygiene Classes Planned

George Washington took a great step in the advancement of physical education when this year it put in the requirement of gymnasium work for all freshmen women, and the school is anticipating making this same requirement for all members of the first-year classmen as well as women next fall. It is expected that there will be classes in hygiene, which will run as a supplementary course with the physical education work, and this will be compulsory for all freshmen.

With the University and its officials directly behind all of the girls' as well as men's athletics, it seems certain that all of the sports under the auspices of the school will steadily advance in national standing.

ENGINEERS' TEAM WINS CLASS BASEBALL TITLE

Victorious Over Columbian College
Nine in Final Game of Intra-
Mural Series

The Engineering College baseball team won the University championship in the final game of the Intra-Mural series played at the Monument Lot last Friday afternoon, by defeating Columbian College 13 to 9.

Curtis, pitching for the Engineers, was touched for frequent hits, but managed to keep them well scattered. Meanwhile, his teammates had gotten next to Sapp and Hottel, who did the hurling for the Columbians, and scored enough tallies to put the game on ice.

Due to the nearness of exam week, and the close of the college baseball schedule, it will be impossible to form a Varsity nine this year. However, it is expected that the interest shown this spring by the members of the college teams will prove sufficient to warrant the selection of a Varsity next year.

SPLINTERS FROM SPORTDOM

Accomplishments of the Season

The C. U. Track Meet
Football Appropriations

By DOMY DOMIGAN

The athletic year is practically ended. Football, basketball, track, rifle, baseball, tennis, and intra-mural activity each has its accomplishments. We can not measure the true success of the year by the "win and loss" standard, but only by what has really been accomplished. By our work during the past year we have come to have a more active association in the athletic world and a greater choice in our opponents. We have taken steps to build teams that will provide recreation for the heretofore "too busy" part-time student. As our teams have shown success, a like measure of interest has been evinced by the student body.

Athletics rank along with curriculum and personnel as the medium by which a school is unofficially rated; it supplies the interest through which prospective students will be drawn to their future Alma Mater. The competition in this field makes it necessary that as G. W. is to grow, her athletics must more than keep pace.

Our future athletic program has indicated that we, as a school, have made a competitive schedule to further true college spirit rather than adhere to the Colonial practice of working only for scholastic proficiency or an Alma Mater whose chief inducement is the advantage it offers to employed or part-time students. We congratulate Coach Crum and his staff on the steps they have taken to further athletics at G. W.—not a team just for the sake of having a team—but as an auxiliary to the educational and recreational life of the University.

But even though the season is practically ended, we can draw many lessons from our recent activities. We congratulate the tennis team as our only team to defeat C. U. this year, but the student body can not but feel disappointed because of the loss sustained by the track team against the same opponent, when, according to all dope, we should have won. While we undoubtedly suffered because of the omission of certain events and because of certain questionable rulings of the officials, WE LOST, and by the narrowest of margins.

While certain members of the team feel that they are to be blamed for the result, it seems that the loss of the meet can be charged against those members of the team and student body, qualified to win, but not competing. Without discussing the trite question as to just what extent the student is obligated to his Alma Mater, the hard part falls on the competing members of the team who find no one there to take the points upon which they have been relying.

"Nothing is worth doing that is not worth doing well." This old maxim seems no better fitted than in the realm of college athletics. For example: Columbia and Northwestern are two of the leading Universities that were not represented by football teams for a number of years. But with the modern college era, that just didn't work, so in both schools the sport was again started—at first, in sort of a listless fashion. But athletic achievement is the means of school advertising and as is always the case, poor advertising didn't pay. So the administration was forced to acquiesce to the demand of the student body. And with what result? The advent of Houghton and his system at Columbia, and Thistlewake at Northwestern, with athletic equipment and an appropriation sufficient for athletic needs, has not only resulted in a higher standard of athletic success but increased the enthusiasm of the student body as well. G. W. authorities might profit by these examples. A good football team could accomplish more for the school than any one of the departments of instruction. We are fortunate in having an able coaching staff; just think what might be accomplished with sufficient equipment and appropriation to meet their needs.

FACULTY CLUB ELECTS

The last meeting of the year of the Faculty Club was held last Thursday evening. Dr. Bartsch gave a very interesting talk on "Some Experiments in Heredity." Officers for 1926-27 were elected. They are: Professor John Donaldson, President; Professor Clarence Updegraff, Vice President; and Professor Protzman as Secretary and Treasurer.

CO-ED RACKETEERS WIN TWO MATCHES

Defeat National Park Seminary and Marjorie Webster Net Teams

FRANCES WALKER STARS

Matches With Holton Arms and Virginia Squads Will Close 1926 Season

Play in the Spring Tournament of the Girls' Varsity Tennis Team is in the midst of its schedule with two matches being played, one with National Park Seminary on Monday, May 10, another with Marjorie Webster on the 11th of this month, and one being postponed on account of rain last Saturday. The match against National Park Seminary, with the George Washington racketeers taking two out of three matches.

Frances Walker, the G. W. star player, downed her opponent by the scores of 6-2 and 6-0; Marie Didden, the manager of the team, and Leah Cate lost their match to the National Parkers by the count of 6-3, 2-6, and 7-9. Miriam Davis and Elizabeth Garber were victorious over the Forest Glen girls, winning their sets 6-3 and 6-4.

The second tournament played last week, staged against Marjorie Webster School, finished with the G. W. girls winning all their matches with the exception of one. Frances Walker, representing the Buff and Blue, overcame Beatrice Ziegler, who was the champion of New York State last year, by winning two of the three sets, 6-3, 1-6, and 6-3.

Alys Ewers Wins.

Alys Ewers, of the G. W. team, downed Barbara Brown and Elizabeth Jones, as substitute, by easily winning two sets 6-1 and 6-4. Miriam Davis and Edith Petrie used their skill and took the measure of Jones and Teasley, of the physical education school, in two sets out of three, counts standing at the finish 6-1, 5-7, and 6-3. Leah Cate and Elizabeth Garber staged a two-set marathon and captured the rounds at 6-3 and 6-3. Elizabeth Chickering in playing opposite Ackerman, lost the only sets of the tournament, losing by the margin of one set, the match resulting in the score of 6-4, 5-7, and 6-8.

The match scheduled for last Saturday afternoon on the Potomac Park courts was called off on account of rain and as yet no arrangements have been made for the playing of this tournament.

The Varsity team will stage a very interesting match on May 19, when they will oppose the Holton Arms girls on the Monument courts at 4.45 p. m., and with this contest will finish their schedule of home games; but they will journey to Fredericksburg State Teachers College on May 21 and to William and Mary College at Williamsburg, Va., on the following day, where they will close their spring season of 1926.

PHI DELTA PHI RESIGNS FROM INTERFRAT BODY

Phi Delta Phi resigned its place as a member of the Interfraternity Council and the resignation was accepted at a meeting of the council held last Sunday.

KLINE GETS MENTION

Donald Kline received first mention recently by the judges in New York, who gave a decision on the "railway station," a Class A problem, upon which advanced students of the Department of Architecture have been working. F. H. Mahlman, George Riggs, and Manley Peele also received mention for their problems.

PROF. H. G. DOYLE TALKS ON TRADE CONFERENCE

Tells of Foreign Trade Group Meeting Which He Recently Attended at Charleston, S. C.

Prof. H. G. Doyle spoke on the recent Foreign Trade Conference which he attended in Charleston, S. C., at Wednesday's Chapel. He mentioned that salesmen destined for service in foreign countries should be trained in both the language and the history of the countries.

Another thing stressed is that the goods sent to foreign countries should be packed as the countries demand them. According to the speaker Germany has always done this, and America and England have just begun this practice. That longer credit should be extended to foreign countries was another of Prof. Doyle's points.

Later he showed pictures of three very fine old colonial gardens which he saw in Charleston. These interesting spots, which were famous even in colonial days, may be seen at Charleston if the visitor is accompanied by a letter, which Prof. Doyle will be glad to supply.

HYDE URGES "BETTER HOMES" IN ASSEMBLY

People Must Own Their Homes, Says Chamber of Commerce Speaker

"To solve the housing problem properly enabling people to have better homes, it is necessary that they own their own," said Dorsey Hyde, of the United States Chamber of Commerce before chapel, Friday, April 30. Mr. Hyde spoke in connection with "Better Homes" Week.

He stated that as the buying of a house is the first big capital expense for a young couple, they should know how much they can afford to spend and how to make the best investment. In the last few years there has been an organized effort to help the potential home owner, culminating in the Better Homes in America Foundation. Model homes have been and are being erected throughout the country.

G. W. STRING QUARTET BROADCASTS ON W. R. C.

The G. W. String Quartet, under the direction of Prof. Gropp, broadcast a concert on April 27 upon the special request of W. R. C. The program included selections from Bach, Schumann, and Schubert.

The String Quartet has gained considerable popularity both in the city and the university for its excellent musical programs. The group consists of Rose Becker, first violin, Ruth Seitzig, second violin, Paul Gropp, viola, and Spencer Prentiss, cello.

TWO HUNDRED GRADS IN ARTS AND SCIENCES

Rapid strides toward graduation are now being made by more than two hundred Arts and Science seniors. At present, there are approximately 125 candidates in Columbian College, 40 in Teacher's College, 40 in the Graduate School, and 25 in the Engineering College.

Hatchet Reviews of Current Shows

By JOE D. WALSTROM

THE VERY IDEA!

This week's effort of the National Theatre Players is called "The Last Warning," an alleged mystery drama. This is reputed to be unique for a mystery play, in that it contains no such animals as gorillas, cats and canaries, or bats.

The movie at the Rialto this week is labelled "Watch Your Wife." All those who do not have any wives to watch, will have to do the next best thing by watching somebody else's wife.

METROPOLITAN

Metropolitan offers "Old Loves and New" this week, which is the box-office title of "The Desert Healer," by Edith M. Hull. Yes, the same one that was responsible for "The Shiek."

Lack of space, etc., but the story was fair and just the sort of thing that the cinema eats up nowadays.

Lewis Stone plays the part of the Lord (English), who finally wins the maid (Irish). Barbara Bedford, Katherine MacDonald has essayed a come-back as the faithless wife, and what a terrible flop it is. I forget the villain's name, but he was mean enough to feed a cigar stub to a poor elephant, which, by the way, still remembered the foul deed after three days.

Quite the best number on the program was the saxophone artist, Rudy Woldoff. His selections were varied and well calculated to display his remarkable technique.

Pathe news, a mildly funny comedy, and Breeskin music helped to make the show last two hours.

ELBERT.

IN RETROSPECTION

This being the last issue of the Hatchet, we hereby express our appreciation of the cooperation which the theatres have given us during the past season. Here's wishing them Bigger and Better Crowds.

And the dramatic editor, (also on behalf of the former editors, Dan, Tom and Jack), wishes to thank Helen Shaw, Jack Milligan (Robaccia), Elbert Huber, Bob Ward and others who have devoted much of their time and trouble in reviewing shows. Last winter it was no fun to come to the Friday Hatchet office at 11.30 on a Sunday night and, on a decrepit typewriter, attempt to write a sensible review in a short 200 words. On such occasions the solitary radiator seemed to forget its primary function of furnishing heat, and when our fingers became frozen to the typewriter it was often necessary to apply the blowtorch or perhaps read a passage from Ellnor Glyn.

But now that it is all over, we did have a pretty good time, and wish to thank the 100,000 readers who have supported us faithfully.

PALACE

"Wet Paint," the feature on view at the Palace this week, provides Raymond Griffith with several opportunities for droll pantomime, and audiences with addled cerebrums, when they try to figure what, if anything, the title has to do with the picture.

A. K. K. DEFEATS PHI CHI 17-3 IN DIAMOND TILT

Medic Frosh Manage to Tie Sophs as Rain Ends Game in Fifth Inning

Garnering twenty-three hits to their opponents, thirteen, Alpha Kappa Kappa medical fraternity landed on Phi Chi medical for a total of seventeen runs to three in the annual baseball scrap between the two, held on the White House lots, Tuesday, April 27.

Phi Chi started the seven inning fracas with two runs in the first only to be swamped in the second half of the same inning by an avalanche of eleven runs garnered by the A. K. K. stickmen. The latter gained five more runs in the second, the while holding Phi Chi to a lone marker obtained in the fifth. Thereafter the game tightened up with A. K. K. getting but one run more in the fourth.

Classes Scrap

Krause started on the mound for Phi Chi with Sette behind the bat. Wilson began the hurling for Alpha Kappa Kappa with Belt receiving. Both teams changed pitchers several times before the close of the contest.

With the Frosh medics holding the Sophs to a three to three count, Jupe Pluvius interfered in the fifth and the game was forced to be called in a contest held on the Monument Lots, Saturday 24th, between the two classes. Gil Ottenberg, on duty for the Sophs, held the Frosh would-be safe until the fifth while his mates were gathering three runs in the first. The Freshman medics, however, got to him in the fifth, chasing three runs across the platter, only to have the elements end things unceremoniously with two men still on base and only two down.

SCARAB FRATERNITY TO EXHIBIT STUDENT WORK

An exhibition, composed of work by students from the different schools in which Scarab Fraternity is established, will be held on the first floor of the Architecture Building, 2101 G Street, for a week or 10 days, beginning May 26th.

This exhibition, which has already been shown at a number of universities and colleges, is said to be unusually interesting, and students of the University or their friends are invited to inspect it during its stay here.

The main thing about the film is Ray, who is up to his familiar funny tricks, with an added appetizer in the form of a ridiculous drunk scene. As a whole, "Wet Paint" does not measure up to the standard set by "Paths to Paradise," and "A Regular Fellow," but if you and Mary have nothing to do Friday night but cram for the finals, I might suggest that you can get into the Palace balcony for just a little over two bits apiece. It's worth that much.

Then, too, Billy Bevan may be seen in a Sennett custard-pie concerto, and Tom Gannon's music may be heard during the time when the Topics of the Day and the Pathe News are not on the screen.

All of which brings to an end the last Hatchet review this school year (sobs) by Jack, Dean, Dreck, and so's your old ROBACCIA.

"JUST A KISS"

One of our young men about town has told us that gems from "Just a Kiss" were played for luncheon music at the Franklin Square Hotel recently. And on top of that, we hear that Jack Hutchings, the composer, and Elmer Brown, the orchestra leader, are contemplating a little trip to New York to see a music publisher. It won't be long before we will be hearing the garbage man whistling "Come a Little Closer!"

COLUMBIA

For the past eighteen years the Hatchet Reviews of Current Shows have started off by telling about the feature picture, but I am going to do something original and daring by reversing the order. The added attractions consisted of a fair comedy, the new reel, another short reel, and, of course, Brusiloff's music. Now for the feature.

It is Adolphe Menjou in "A Social Celebrity." It is not an outstanding picture because the plot has no more strength than a cup of boarding-house coffee. Mr. Menjou in this picture is a small-town tonsorial artist who goes to New York, poses as a French count, is found out, and returns to spend the rest of his days giving boyish bobs to grandmothers. It is, however, funny in spots, and is greatly redeemed by the acting of Chester Conklin and Adolphe. The girl, Louise Brooks, is a dazzling creature recently of the Follies. She's a brunette, and will make some people think twice before they accept the maxim of Anita Loos that Gentlemen Prefer Nordics.

Yours truly,

JOE.

EXAMS BEGIN MAY 26

EPISCOPAL CLUB HOLDS LAST REGULAR MEETING

Committee Appointed to Work Out Details of the Club's "Five-Fold" Program

The Episcopal Club held its last regular business meeting of the season last Thursday in Corcoran Hall.

Upon the signification of the members that some form of distinctive insignia was desired, several pin designs were presented for consideration. Some of the designs submitted were placed in the hands of jewelers. The general theme of all designs submitted was a Roman cross on a golden shield.

A committee consisting of Rolston Lyon, Hunter Lewis, Mary Lewis Beard, Janet Hayes and Judson Knappen was appointed to decide the details of the Club's "Five-fold program," and will make their report at the informal meeting to be held Sunday, May 23, at 217 Rittenhouse St., N. W.

Several suggestions were made for continuing the club meetings and work during the summer, but it was finally decided that those attending summer school would have no time for any extra-curricular activities. It was decided, however, to have a picnic meeting, or something of the sort, during the summer.
